JULY 20, 2007

National Science Foundation
WHERE DISCOVERIES BEGIN

Grant Name: Research to Aid
Persons with Disabilities, CFDA #
47.041

Funder: National Science

Foundation

Eligibility: Open

Award Range/Funding Period: One to three year project period, maximum of $80,000/yr.

Summary: The RAPD program supports research that will lead to the development of new technologies, devices, or software for persons with disabilities. Research may be supported that is directed to the characterization, restoration, and/or substitution of human functional ability or cognition, or to the interaction of persons with disabilities and their environment. Areas of particular recent interest are disability-related research in neuroscience/neuroengineering and rehabilitation robotics. Emphasis is placed on significant advancement of fundamental engineering and scientific knowledge and not on incremental improvements. Proposals should advance discovery or innovation beyond the frontiers of current knowledge in disability-related research. Applicants are encouraged to contact a program director prior to submitting a proposal. Undergraduate Engineering Design Projects are also supported, especially those that provide prototype "custom-designed" devices or software for persons with disabilities.

Due Date: 9/15/07
